Recovery Planning Tools

Recovery isn't just physical. These tools help you plan for the whole journey — emotional, social, and personal — because healing happens in layers.

HEALING BEYOND DIAGNOSIS INITIATIVE

"Recovery is not returning to who you were.
Recovery is learning who you are now."

— Beyond Diagnosis Theory™

Where Am I Right Now?

An honest baseline assessment — your starting point, not your endpoint

Before you can plan where you're going, you need to know where you are. Rate each area of your life right now with complete honesty. There's no right answer.

AREA OF LIFE	1 CRISIS	2 STRUGGLING	3 SURVIVING	4 STABLE	5 THRIVING	NOTES
Physical health
Emotional well-being
Relationships
Identity / sense of self
Purpose / meaning
Daily functioning
Social connection
Financial stability
Hope for the future
Self-worth

TODAY'S DATE: _____

In one sentence — how would you describe where you are right now?

This is your baseline — not your ceiling. Come back to this page in 30, 60, and 90 days. You'll be surprised how much can shift when you're intentional about recovery.

My Recovery Vision

Not "going back to normal" — building something new

Traditional recovery asks: "How do I get back to who I was?" The Beyond Diagnosis approach asks: "Who do I want to become?" You can't go back. But you can go forward with intention.

LETTING GO

What expectations about recovery do I need to release?

(e.g., "I'll be exactly who I was before," "I should be further along by now")

MY RECOVERY VISION — 6 MONTHS FROM NOW

Describe your life 6 months from now if things go as well as they realistically can. Be specific. Where are you? What are you doing? How do you feel?

MY RECOVERY VISION — 1 YEAR FROM NOW

Same exercise — but stretch further. What does your life look like?

THE FEELING I'M CHASING

More than specific achievements — what do you want to feel? Circle or write:

Safe	Connected	Confident	Purposeful	Peaceful
Hopeful	Worthy	Free	_____

Goal Setting: Beyond Physical Recovery

Because healing isn't just about the body

Most recovery plans focus on physical milestones — walk further, lift more, regain function. But emotional, social, and identity recovery matter just as much. Set one goal in each area.

EMOTIONAL RECOVERY GOAL

What emotional milestone would feel meaningful? (e.g., "Talk about my injury without shutting down")

My goal:

First small step:

Target date: _____

SOCIAL RECOVERY GOAL

What relationship or connection would you like to rebuild or strengthen?

My goal:

First small step:

Target date: _____

IDENTITY RECOVERY GOAL

What part of yourself would you like to rediscover or develop?

My goal:

First small step:

Target date: _____

PURPOSE RECOVERY GOAL

What would give your life meaning right now — even if it's different from before?

My goal:

First small step:

Target date: _____

My Support Network Map

Recovery doesn't happen alone — who's on your team?

Recovery requires support — but not all support is the same. Map your network to understand who's there, what they offer, and where the gaps are.

PERSON / RESOURCE	RELATIONSHIP	WHAT THEY HELP WITH	HOW OFTEN	STRENGTH (1-5)

GAP ANALYSIS

What kind of support is missing from my network?

Where could I find that support? (organizations, groups, professionals, community)

What's stopping me from reaching out? What would make it easier?

Weekly Recovery Tracker

Small steps add up — track them so you can see the progress

Print this page weekly. Recovery isn't always visible day-to-day, but when you track it, you start to see the patterns and the progress.

Week of: _____

DAY	ENERGY LEVEL (1-10)	MOOD (1-10)	ONE GOOD THING	ONE HARD THING	WHAT HELPED
Mon
Tue
Wed
Thu
Fri
Sat
Sun

WEEKLY REFLECTION

What's better this week than last week — even slightly?

What pattern do I notice?

What do I want to focus on next week?

Emergency Emotional Toolkit

For the hard days — have this ready before you need it

Bad days will come. Moments of crisis, overwhelm, despair — they're part of recovery, not a sign of failure. But having a plan before those moments arrive makes the difference between spiraling and stabilizing. Fill this out on a good day. Use it on the hard ones.

When I'm in Crisis, I Will:

STEP 1 — PAUSE

My grounding technique (5 things I can see, 4 I can touch, 3 I can hear, 2 I can smell, 1 I can taste):

STEP 2 — REACH OUT

3 people I can call or text:

1. Name: _____ Phone: _____
2. Name: _____ Phone: _____
3. Name: _____ Phone: _____

STEP 3 — COMFORT

Things that help me feel safe:

STEP 4 — REMIND

Truths I need to remember on my worst days:

STEP 5 — PROFESSIONAL SUPPORT

My counsellor/coach: _____

Crisis line: 988 (Suicide Crisis Helpline) | 1-833-456-4566 (Talk Suicide Canada)

Local support: _____

"You've survived every bad day so far. That's not luck — that's strength."
